NEWBERRY CASE TO REACH VOTE THIS AFTERNOON

Both Sides Preparing For Action—May Again go to Committee

EACH SIDE CONFIDENT

Five Senators Speak in Opposition to Michigan Man—Outcome is Still Problematical

Washington, Jan. 10.—The Newberry election controversy in the Senate revealed today under surface indications of a seething, line-tightening fight with the title to Truman H. Newberry's seat, in the opinion of leaders, hanging in the balance.

Both sides claimed victory tonight. Mr. Newberry's supporters predicting a majority of four to seven votes, while his opponents declared he would be unseated by a margain of three to five votes.

Five speeches voicing opposition to Mr. Newberry's being seated were delivered on the floor, while leaders of both sides were busy examining the situation in the expectation that a vote may be reached tomorrow.

If a vote deciding the issue is not taken, there is said to be a possibility of one to recommit the whole question to the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, with instructions to call Mr. Newberry for an examination and for further investigation of the record of his campaign committee.

The Senate will meet an hour earlier tomorrow in the expectation that a vote may be reached during the day, and with at least five Senators prepared to discuss the case on the floor.

Leaders of the opposition were declared today to have begun efforts to send the whole thing back to the committee which reported a resolution declaring Mr. Newberry to be the duly elected Senator. They said that Mr. Newberry should be called to testify, despite the usual Senatorial courtesy and custom of inviting rather than subpoenaing a sitting member. They claimed the record is not complete, and will not be without his testimony.

In addition to this development there were energetic efforts by Republican leaders to have absent Senators paired. Only one such pair, however, was actually arranged, Senator Crow, Republican, Pennsylvania, who is ill, being paired to vote for the resolution with Senator Kendrick, Democrat, Wyoming, against it.

Senators Weller, of Maryland; Lenroot, Wisconsin, and Johnson, California, Republicans, are away unpaired, and the first two are counted on as favorable to the seating of Mr. Newberry. Mr. Johnson's attitude has been classed as doubtful.

The limitation of one hour for each Senator began to have its effect on the debate today, two members, Senators Walsh, of Montana, and Heflin, of Alabama, exhausting their time.

Senator Newberry used his full time yesterday, half of it with his speech and the rest in answering questions.

Besides Mr. Walsh and Mr. Heflin, Senators Borah, Republican, Idaho, and Robinson, of Arkansas, and Ashurst, of Arizona, Democrats, also contributed to the attack being waged against the resolution clearing the Michigan Senator's title to his seat.

Five Senators, Watson, of Indiana; La Follette, of Wisconsin; Norris, of Nebraska, Republicans, and Caraway, of Arkansas, and Pomerene, Ohio, Democrats, have indicated their intention to discuss the case tomorrow. There are many others who have said they desired a "final word."

The seat held by Newberry should be declared vacant, Senator Borah declared in his speech, on the ground that the Michigan election in 1918 "being tainted with corruption and controlled through the use of money is void."

Senator Borah said this conclusion had been reached after "a thorough examination of the law and a careful study of the facts relative to this controversy."

Senator Walsh, who yesterday conducted the cross-examination of Mr. Newberry, took up the argument against him.

The Montana Senator declared that while it had no bearing on the campaign controversy, "nevertheless it is a fact that there is no file at the Navy Department a report mildly censuring Mr. Newberry for not having been more keenly alert with respect to the assignments under his direction."

WASHINGTON DAY BY DAY

(From our Special Correspondent.)

Washington Jan. 11.—When the appointment of Dr. Kornfeldt, of Ohio, as United States Minister to Persia was first announced, one of the magazines wrote the doctor asking him to give his views and policies concerning the matters that he would take up in the new country. The publication wanted to use the story as a feature.

"I have not yet been confirmed by the Senate," replied the doctor, "and therefore, it would be the height of folly for me to say anything at this time."

In a few days the announcement of the confirmation of Dr. Kornfeldt was forthcoming and once more the same magazine requested the new Minister to give his views on Persia.

"Now that I have been confirmed as Minister to Persia," the doctor replied, "It would be the height of wisdom for me to keep quiet."

Despite the claims of Royal A. Haynes, U. S., Prohibition Commissioner that the imports of spirits, wines and malt liquors into the United States since prohibition went into effect have decreased, figures contained in the monthly summary of foreign and domestic commerce supplied by the Department of Commerce do not bear out the contention of the Prohibition official.

For the eleven months ended November 1920, the total value of imports of spirits, wines and malt liquors from foreign countries amounted to $2,657,865, while for the eleven months ended November, 1921, the value of such imports had jumped to $4,479,520.

The importations of whiskey for the 11 months ended November, 1920, amounted to 134,886 gallons, while for the same period in 1921 the imports had increased to 340,563 gallons of whiskey.

For the eleven months ended November, 1920 while for the corresponding period in 1921 champagne imports increased to 34,193 gallons.

Of course, all these liquors are supposed to be used for medicinal purposes only, but there is a rumor that at least half the amount reaching this country at various times since the Volstead law went into effect has not been given to the diseased and suffering by physicians, but has found its way into the hands of high class bootleggers who get fancy prices for imported goods.

It is not often that a Senator-elect or a Senator-designate has an opportunity of meeting the President of the United States and the members of his Cabinet at one and the same time. But this is what happened to Senator George Wharton Pepper, of Philadelphia appointed by Governor Sproul, of Pennsylvania, as the successor to the late Senator Boies Penrose. Just as the Cabinet was assembling yesterday, Governor Sproul walked into the White House accompanied by the new Senator from Pennsylvania. The two shook hands with the President and then the latter invited them into the Cabinet room to meet the members of his official family. After the usual greetings had been exchanged, Pepper went to the Capitol to take the oath of office.

President Harding has assured the World War veterans that Congress will soon enact a soldier's bonus bill. Such a measure has already passed the House, but no action was ever taken in the Senate. But the President will oppose any such legislation which does not carry with it ways and means for meeting the additional expenditures that will be necessary by the general government to pay for the obligations made by the enactment of such legislation. A bond issue is not to be thought of, in the opinion of administration leaders as the public is now bearing more than its share of financial responsibility in this direction. How the money is to be raised, therefore, is a queston which must be settled by the Congress and not by the Executive branch of the government.

President Harding has not been requested to act as arbiter between the Japanese and Chinese delegations now in Washington looking to a settlement of the Shantung problem which to outward appearances at least, seems to have reached the dead lock stage. The Chief Executive is still hopefull that the two nations which are now quarreling over the return of the Kiaou-Chou railway properties in Shantung to China will come to some definite agreement on the subject before the conference adjourns. The President feels keenly the disagreement that has resulted over the question and will do everything in his power to force a settlement even if he has to use his good offices to accomplish such a result.

OPIE DECISION IS DEFERRED

Committee Refuses Request For Early Finding on Charges

Testimony Before Senate Investigating Committee is Conflicting.

Washington, Jan. 10.—After a dozen witnesses had offered directly conflicting testimony on charges that Major Hierome L. Opie, of Staunton, Va., had shot two or three of his own men of the One Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry in the fighting north of Verdun, in October, 1918, the Senate special committee investigating charges of Senator Thomas E. Watson against army officers virtually closed today that part of its inquiry relating to Major Opie.

John A. Cutchins, of Richmond, Va., volunteer counsel for Major Opie, made a concluding statement urging the investigation quickly to make a verdict "in justice not only to Major Opie but other officers accused in this investigation.

Senator Watson protested against a separate decision in the Opie case, saying that the committee should include its findings in the general report later. The Georgia Senator denied he was an accuser of Major Opie, but claimed he had merely given to the investigators the names of soldiers who wrote him they were willing to testify. He accused the Staunton officer of being the "first to try his case in the newspapers."

Senator Brandegee, chairman, said he did not understand that Major Opie and his friends expected an immediate finding and the committee would proceed with various phases of the investigation. He indicated the the committee would not pass upon the Opie charge until it makes its report at the close of the inquiry.

Prior to this several witnesses from Virginia had testified both for and against Major Opie, the testimony varying as on previous days, but, on the whole redounding to the credit of the officer. In his concluding statement, Mr. Cutchins referred sympathetically to the fact that practically all of the witnesses against Major Opie were or had been under treatment for mental or nervous diseases or came from hospitals.

All of the witnesses today were from Virginia. Several voluntarily appeared in behalf of Major Opie; others were summoned from the list of Senator Watson, who objected to any assumption that he was "a prosecutor."

"This is the committee's investigation," said Senator Watson. "I am not prosecuting Major Opie or anyone else."

Mr. Cutchins, speaking with some feeling, asked that if additional witnesses were to appear the committee give Major Opie ample notice of a resumption of this phase of the inquiry.

The hearing began today with the testimony of Charles E. Fox, of Richmond, who said he saw Major Opie shoot a man in American uniform in the engagement north Verdun. He did not know whether he died. There was much talk about it, he said, in the One Hundred and Sixteenth Infantry. Asked why he had made no complaint, Fox said that he was afraid."

Fox was asked why he had not reported it to his lieutenant, a Lieutenant Morning, of Richmond.

"That guy would shoot me; he didn't take any foolishness," said Fox.

Fox insisted, on cross-examination, that he saw the shooting with his own eyes. He accused Mr. Cutchins "of trying to make a fool out of me, and you can't do it." He shook his finger at the Opie attorney and exclaimed: "How do you know so much about all this, you were at headquarters, 30 miles away?"

"I was where duty sent me," said Mr. Cutchins. He asked Fox why he was behind his lines that morning and going toward the rear. Fox claimed he had orders to go back and destroy hand grenades.

The resignation of a member who has moved from the city was accepted and the vacancy filled by the election to membership of Miss Victoria Jones. The regular program of entertainment was ommitted and the only entertainment was several selections by the Alexandria High School Orchestra, which were greatly enjoyed. This orchestra was composed of Miss Marian Dienelt, Constantine Vozeolas, Norman Lawler, John Strauss and Bernard Knight.

M'DERMOTT CHOSEN HEAD OF FIREMEN

Triangular Race For Chief Develops at Council Meeting

NEW SCHOOL SOON

Fights for School Trustee and Board of Police Commissioners From Second Ward Result in Deadlock

Fire Chief Edward J. McDermott was re-elected to that position last night at a joint session of the city council. The election was on the first ballot. There were three nominations made as follows:

Councilman Desmond nominated Chief McDermott, Councilman Sullivan nominated Kenneth W. Ogden, former fire chief and Alderman Summers nominated J. Edward Howell and the vote follows McDermott, 13; Ogden, 6; Howell, 4.

Chief McDermott was elected last June to fill the unexpired term of Chief K. W. Ogden, who resigned.

Just before electing a fire chief the joint session endeavored to elect a school trustee from the first ward and Councilman Ticer nominated Charles E. Tennesson, incumbent, and Councilman Sullivan nominated Cecil Hufty. Two ballots were taken resulting in a vote of 12 to 11 in favor of Tennesson. The election of the fire chief was then made.

Next the joint session went into the election of a police commissioner from the second ward. R. E. Knight, incumbent, was placed in nomination by Councilman Wattles, and William Baader was placed in nomination by Councilman Desmond. On the first ballot Knight received 12 and Baader 11 votes and on three subsequent ballots the vote was: Baader 12 and Knight 11. Inasmuch as it required thirteen votes to elect, this election went over and the joint session again made another effort to elect a school trustee and the vote was: Tennesson 12, Hufty 11. The joint session then dissolved realizing that they would be unable to elect a school trustee or police commissioner. The election of these two officers will be taken up later.

Robert F. Green was elected a member of the board of aldermen from the third ward to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Alderman John T. Harrison. He was at once sworn in by President Marbury and took his seat last night and participated in the joint session.

The joint session was attended by an unusually large crowd of spectators, fully 150 persons being present, among whom were many members of the fire department. Following the election of a chief they let out a yell, but order quickly was restored by President Marbury.

In order to encourage the building of new houses Alderman Summers introduced an ordinance providing for the exemption of city taxes by city council on all new buildings for a period of three years from January 1, 1922, to January 1, 1925. It was referred to a committee.

A communication was received from the Alexandria Trades Council in reference to lack of school facilities in the city. It set forth that a great number of children are compelled to attend schools only half time, thereby being denied the opportunity of scuring education they are entitled to. It also was set forth that a number of mechanics employed at the Alexandria Naval Torpedo Station contemplate moving out of the city unless they can secure better school facilities. The matter was referred to the committee on schools and finance.

President Burke explained that there is now a movement on foot to erect a new school building and Councilman Lawler said that Engineer Dunn has the plans and proposes to start the work of erecting the new building just as soon as the weather permits which probably will be within the next thirty days.

J. S. Oliver, of Richmond, appeared before common council in behalf of Alexandria being represented next May in Richmond when the Virginia historical pageant will be shown the week of May 22. This movement he said was organized by the Travelers' Protective Association and its object is to put the history of Virginia before the world.

Any float that might be exhibited by the city he explained would well advertise Alexandria and Mr. Oliver asked council to assist Miss Helen N. Cummings, who is chairman of the local committee. On the recommendation of a committee the salary of Police and Civil Justice F. G. Duvall was fixed at $2 000 a year and the public property committee was instructed to arrange to secure a safe for the placing of valuable papers of the justice.

The city electoral board petitioned council that the compensation given election officials is inadequate and it was referred to the finance committee. Ordinance to define ardent spirits and sale thereof and prescribe penalties for violations was referred to the general laws committee. The sum of $660 was appropriated for sewer on Fairfax street, southward from Queen street.

On motion of Councilman Baggett it was decided to loan to a committee of women the painting of George Washington standing beside a horse which now adorns the south wall of council chamber, they to use it for exhibition purposes. Councilman Baggett was appointed a committee of one to see to its transfer to Christ Church Parish Hall where it will be shown.

Permission was granted E. L. Allen to place Oriel window on third floor of building at northwest corner of Washington and King streets. Application of G. R. Smith for improvements in rear of 119-121 South Henry street referred to street committee.

Resolution of Councilman Baggett fixing the price of gass at $1 a 1,000 with twenty cents discount on each 1,000 cubic feet, effective March 1, 1922, and providing that no monthly consumption shall be less than 500 cubic feet was referred to the light committee.

A report of the work accomplished by the health department was received.

The committee named by the circuit court to fix the salary to be paid the new city council and mayor under the council manager plan form of city government reported that the salary of the five councilmen would be $250 each a year and the Mayor $500 a year. The report was ordered spread on the minutes. Resolution that the corporation attorney look into the city laws governing fines, etc., was referred to the general laws committee. Petition of General Realty Corporation for improvement of Walnut street in Rosemont was referred to committee on streets and finance. Bill of Graham and Ogden for $1 085.10 for workmen's compensation insurance was referred to the finance committee.

The regular business meeting of the Golden Links Missionary Society of the M. E. Church South will be held at the home of Miss Emily May, 209 North Washington street, Thursday evening, January 12, at 8 o'clock All members are urged to be present.

Bible Thought for Today

BUREAUS UNITE ON PRICE QUIZ

Departments of Justice, Commerce and Labor Reach Agreement

Each Will Name an Investigator to Look Into Wholesale and Retail Prices

Washington, Jan. 11.—Tentative agreement for an investigation of wholesale and retail prices throughout the country to be carried on by the Department of Justice, Commerce Department and Department of Labor has been reached, Attorney-General Daugherty said yesterday.

At a conference with Secretaries Hoover and Davis yesterday, Mr. Daugherty said, it was virtually decided to broaden the retail price investigation of the Justice Department to include the cost of various commodities from their origin to the consumer and to make the survey jointly by the three departments.

A committee, composed of a member from each department, he added, would be appointed to conduct the investigation.

More extensive investigation is necessary, Mr. Daugherty declared, in order that the public may know the "cost of the egg as it travels from the hen to the breakfast table," and the Government plans to study the whole field of prices and costs of manufacturing and production. Just what commodities will be covered in the investigation, he said, have not yet been determined, but he indicated that clothing, food and fuel would be included in the survey.

It also was planned, he continued, to make use of data gathered by Representative Anderson, Republican, Minnesota, chairman of the joint commission of agricultural inquiry, to save duplication of effort where possible.

Investigation of prices and costs, Mr. Daugherty said, could be made more thoroughly and economically by the three departments jointly than through separate surveys, although it was probable that each department would give more particular attention to the subjects of especial interest to it and thus avoid overlapping.

When concluded, Mr. Daugherty declared, the reports of the investigators would be consolidated by the Department of Justice, and the policy of the Government toward the conditions found to exist throughout the country would be determined when the facts as to existing costs and prices were known.

VARIETY OF WEATHER

Rain, Sleet And Snowstorm Give City First Taste of Winter Weather

"Some weather" was the laconic comment of old times on weather conditions prevailing here today. Yesterday a balmy spring like day was followed today by a cold driving steady rainfall and early this afternoon the city was furnished with a sleet storm and this was followed by a snowstorm. It gave Alexandria its first taste of real winter weather. The majority of persons who could stayed in doors and the streets this morning presented a deserted appearance. Owing to weather conditions the schools had a continuous session.

CHINESE ASKED TO SUBMIT LIST OF AGREEMENTS

Given Opportunity to Call For Alterations In Objectionable Pacts

FAR EAST DELAYS

Demand of Senate That More Be Done For China Is Possible Additional Cause For Delay

Washington, Jan. 11.—China has been asked to submit to the Arms Conference a list of the agreements—treaties, contracts, concessions and so on—which she would like to have altered, it was learned tonight from British sources.

This is the first indication of serious attention to the claim made by China, when her delegation submitted the 10 points, that all such agreements should be declared in this Conference to be examined as to their validity, and that those not declared should be treated as forfeited.

It is not clear that any action will be taken in the Conference as to those agreements, if and when submitted by China, although the British spokesman said he would like to see them examined in detail. More probably, he suggested, some sort of continuing machinery would be named to study them and to make a report. That, he thought, was more likely, owing to the great number of the agreements and the complexities surrounding them.

This was one of the features of today which was given over almost entirely to extremely curious questioning as to the cause of the apparent purpose to hold the Conference here longer than was expected last week, for the purpose evidently of going into Far Eastrn matters much more deeply than anyone thought probable. The signs on Saturday pointed to virtual completion of the work of the Conference this week, and most of the important foreign delegates were making plans to start for home Saturday or Sunday.

While the town was alive with conjectures and gossip about the cause for the postponement of the sailing dates of Mr. Balfour, Lord Lee and M. Sarraut the principal delegates of each of the naval powers were in session today, going over the naval treaty. Progress was reported by both Americans and British at the close of the meeting, but it was not so great as was hoped. Various angles still were open, and it was said that possibly some of the delegations would have to communicate with their Government before acting.

In the gossip of the day over the purpose to hold the Conference together for more thorough discussion of the Far Eastern matters two very interesting theories were advanced. One was that the American delegation has been advised that not only the four-power pact and the forthcoming Chinese treaty, but the naval treaty, too may be endangered in the Senate unless something more is done for China, or at least attempted than has been accomplished so far and than was expected on Saturday and Sunday. The other is that Mr. Hughes never intended the Conference to get away without action on outstanding questions, but is just showing his hand.

In connection with the first theory, it was learned today that reports which have come to Washington from the West lately have been to the effect that the masses of the people would be greatly dissatisfied with the Conference unless something were done about Japanese territorial aggressions against China. Much has been said and written in the last year or two regarding these and it is stated that men coming in have told American leaders that the people want an attempt made to remedy the evils they believe to have been done.

Something of this feeling is said to have been communicatd to the Senate, and a report has been current in the last 24 hours that one of the members of the American delegation said that, if the treaties were to go through the Senate a satisfactory settlement of Shantung, at any rate, must be made. The Shantung question he believed, was one about which the American people had very definite opinions, in consequence of the fight made against the Versailles treaty.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK

Next week is National Thrift Week. It will be observed all over the United States and is designed to encourage the habit of thrift with the young. No more admirable habit can be formed and it is bound to increase in value and importance as the years go on. There is hardly a millionaire today who will not tell you that he started by saving his wages or his salary when a boy. John D. Rockefeller, who up till recently, has been the world's richest man. and perhaps is today, has taught this lesson again and again. There is one thing in common in the biographies or autobiographies of all rich men—they saved enough to make an humble start and found capital only too willing to lend them more. Pierpont Morgan stated on the witness stand, on oath, of course, that in loaning money he looked to character as his main security; financial resources were secondary.

Go to any banker in Alexandria today, and if you have a record of thrift, if they have watched your savings grow and accumulate from however small a beginning, you will find them ready to help you in any honorable undertaking, because you have earned their confidence and approval. More than this, you will find them ready to assist you with the friendliest advise. They have ways and means of finding out facts you perhaps ought to know, and they will gladly place this at your disposal.

To the young man or woman on the threshold of life's battles, we would urge the practice of economy. Whatever your income, spend a little less. Those things bought by denial and self-sacrifice are the most precious of one's possession. The habit of thrift, once formed, becomes a pleasure. The acquisition of a bank account is the easiest method of forming this habit. Make it a fad and an avocation. Your sense of independence will increase with each dollar added; your feeling of security against accident or illness will be augmented, and life will assume new aspects and offer new possibilities.

We understand the Y. M. C. A. is to make special observance of Thrift Week, and will announce its program later. The Alexandria Public Schools are also giving special prominence to the subject of thrift in their daily exercises. It was a happy thought, this of Thrift Week, and the Gazette has only words of praise for those whose worthy endeavors make it an occasion for general celebration.

EDUCATION RATINGS

Owing to an oversight, the extract from the Loudoun Times, referred to in our editorial of yesterday was omitted from our columns. We print same today as it gives interesting information as to the rating of the cities and counties of Virginia in educational matters.

OUR SCHOOLS AGAIN

We publish today a communication from Local Union No. 1665, Carpenters and Joiners. We are glad to see the interest in our public schools that is displayed. Certainly with all the people bestirring themselves, our schools will make sure and rapid progress. As far as bringing matters before the City Council at present is concerned, we are of the opinion that it will be more opportune and effective to await the inauguration of the new City management. This, without any reflection on the worthy members of the City Council, but because under the new system of city government the responsibility will be more easily marked and keenly felt. We are in thorough accord with the sentiments expressed by the Carpenters and Joiners Union, and thank them for their confidence in the Gazette.

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America

Local Union No. 1665

Alexandria, Va., January 9, 1922.
Editor Alexandria Gazette,
Alexandria, Va.

Dear Sir:—At a quarterly called meeting of this Local Union held Thursday, January 5th, Our Delegates to the Alexandria Trades Council in their report directed attention to the inadequacy of our school facilities and the action taken by the Trades Council relative to same.

After hearing the report our Local Union by unanimous vote endorsed the action of the trades body to bring the matter to the attention of the public and to address a communication to our Honorable City Council urging that body to relieve the present unsatisfactory conditions.

Although the matter has been so clearly outlined by the Trades Council in their article and your excellent editorial it in no way relieves the responsbility resting upon every Labor Fraternal or Religious organization in this city to do their part to improve and mantain educational facilities in our schools to equal if not to excel those existing in any other city in this State.

As business and education are synonymous are far as prosperity and greatness are concerned. Public School improvements should be included in the program for a greater Alexandria, and as zealously worked for as the other projects mentioned.

The loss of an education can not be estimated and even one month or one year spent by a child out of school may wreck their hopes and ambitions for future social or business achievements.

Thanking you for the assistance you are giving the labor organizations in this matter and for space in your valuable paper.

Very truly yours,
F. R. Jones.

FOREIGN TRADE FIGURES OF U. S.

Heavy Reduction in Value of Merchandise Received and Shipped

Foreign Trade is the Highest Ever Recorded in the History of the Country

Foreign trade figures of the United States in the calendar year 1921 show a heavy reduction in their stated value of the merchandise entering and leaving the country. In no single year in the history of our foreign trade says the Trade Record of The National City Bank of New York, have the official figures shown such a percentage of reduction. The total foreign trade of the country, imports and exports combined, stood at 13 1-2 billion dollars in the calender year 1920, the highest total ever reached, and eleven months figures ending with November, 1921, justify the assertion that the total for the full year just ending will not exceed $7,000,000,000, and will probably fall a little below that total as against 13 1-2 billion dollars one year earlier.

The reduction in the total values of the merchandise entering and leaving the country in 1921 will be about 48 per cent in imports the reduction will be approximately 53 per cent and in exports 45 per cent.

This fall off in the values of the foreign trade in 1921, when compared with 1920, extends to every great group of articles both in imports and exports. Raw manufacturing material imported shows a fall off of 53 per cent in total values; foodstuffs 63 per cent, and manufactures 43 per cent, these figures being of course in very round terms, the smaller reduction in manufactures being due to the fact that importers are bringing in large quantities of manufactures in anticipation of a higher tariff. On the export side, manufacturing material shows a fall of 48 per cent, foodstuffs 33 per cent, and manufactures 51 per cent, these figures as to exports being also necessarily in very round terms.

Considering the trade of the country with the grand divisions, imports from Europe show a fall of 38 per cent, from North America 54 per cent from South America 61 per cent, and from Asia and Oceania 38 per cent.

The general causes of this tremendous decline in the value of every group of articles imported or exported and also a reduction in the trade with every grand division of the world, lie primarily, says the bank's statement in the fact that the prices per unit of quantity are in most of the important articles less than half those of a year ago and that in many instances a given quantity of merchandise being now imported is valued at less than half that at the same date last year. Our biggest imports are crude materials in manufacturing materials, wool, rubber, hides and skins, wood, silk, raw cotton, fibers, and crude rubber imported in October 1921, entered at 14 cents per pound against 37 cents in the same month of last year; cattle hides at 10 1-2 cents a pound against 22 cents; carding wool at 14 cents a pound against 40 cents a year ago; combing wool in September, 1921, (no imports in October) at 23 cents per pound against 66 cents one year earlier; raw cotton in September 16 1-2 cents against 54 1-2 cents in September of the preceding year; tin 27 1-2 cents a pound against 52 cents a year earlier; Manila hemp $135 per ton against $310 one year earlier; the only important manufacturing material which has failed to show a big fall off being raw silk. In foodstuffs conditions are similar, the sugar imports of October, 1921, averaging two and eighth tenths cents per pound against 13.9 cents in October of the preceding year, while in other articles of food there is a material reduction but none as great as that of sugar, which by the way is the biggest single article of foodstuffs imported.

The fall off in values of the principal articles exported is equally striking and an equally important factor in the causes of the decline, wheat exported in November going at $1.18 per bushel as against $2.60 in November of last year; corn in October at 60 cents per bushel against $1.33 in the same month of the preceding year; cotton at 20 cents a pound against 30 cents one year earlier, and bacon at 13 cents a pound against 23 cents a year earlier.

Of course, adds the bank's statement, these big reductions in the values per unit of quantity of the articles imported and exported, are not the only causes of the big fall off, for there are many actual reductions in quantities, and this is due to the decreased purchasing power of our own farmers and wage earners and also to the big reduction in the imports of the countries to which our exports are sent.

New Colgate Factory In Montreal

New York, Jan. 3.—Colgate and Co. of New York and Jersey City, one of the oldest and the largest makers of fine soaps and perfumes in the world, is still expanding rapidly.

Less than six months ago, they acquired the Indiana State Reformatory property at Clarksville, Ind., U. S. A. This, shortly, will be converted into an up to date plant to help relieve their huge Jersey City factory.

Now comes werd that they have purchased another new plant at Montreal to increase their Canadian production and speed up Canadian deliveries. The new property is located at 72 74 St. Ambroise street and was selected only after the most careful consideration of many places in Canada. It consists of a modern two story and basement brick structures with a light, airy main building and two large wings.

Manufacturing in Canada will begin about January 1st, after a few slight alterations are made. The output can be quickly and easily shipped over the Dominion, as the Grand Trunk R. R., runs right through the backyard.

Evidently the Colgate business is booming. Established 115 years ago, the business has grown to its present size, employing 3,000 or more people in the main plant, with agencies all over the world. The main factory and offices in Jersey City comprise forty buildings, which cover parts of seven city squares. The present heads of the concern are the four grandsons and one great grandson of the founder of the business, This record is uniqque in the history of American business life.

When the nurse entered, her boy patinet was in a furious fit of writhing convulsions. "What is the matter?" she cried anxiously.

"I forgot," replied the boy, "to shake the bottle before taking the medicine."

BOOSTS WAREHOUSES

Texas Railroad Decision a Stimulus to Bonded Cotton Warehouses

Recent action of the Texas State Railroad Commission by which the cotton concentration privilege was extended so as specifically to include Federally bonded warehouses, should serve as a stimulus to warehousemen operating in Texas to place their warehouses under the Federal warehouse act. Under this rule the railroads are required to apply the expense bills covering the local freight from point of origin to the warehouse to the bill of lading when the cotton is shipped from the warehouse, an all cotton moving between points in Texas and originating within 100 miles of any Federally licensed warehouse in which the cotton is to be stored, when the bills of lading bear the notation "for warehousing."

The operation of the rule is best explained by an example. Cotton originating within 100 miles of Dallas may be shipped to that city for storage. A flat short haul rate is charged from the originating point to Dallas. Later the cotton may be shipped to Galveston for export. When this shipment is made, the incoming expense bill is applied to the outgoing shipment, the charge being the through rate from original shipping point to Galveston. Thus a credit is allowed for the short haul charge from original shipping point to Dallas. The rule is therefore to the shipper's advantage since the through rate from original shipping point to Galveston is lower than a combination of rates from original shipping point to Dallas and thence from Dallas to Galveston.

Before the young girl in Burma makes her debut she must have her ears pierced for earrings. The holes are kept open and enlarged by wearing in them glass or metal tubes of increasing size, until they are half an inch in diameter, capable of carrying weights similar to the decorations worn by South Sea Islanders.

FOR GREATER ALEXANDRIA

Interview With H. R. Burke, President of Common Council

Mr. Burke Tells of theGas Plant and the Hoped-For Reduction in Price of Gas

When speaking of a greater Alexandria this morning Harry R. Burke, President of the Common Council and partner in the firm of Burke and Herbert, tells the Gazette reporter some facts about the gas rates, gas works, and why these rates were and that they are coming down. He says that—

"In my estimation the gas plant is in a better condition than it has ever been before in the history of its existence. True the gas rate in this city is so high that at the present time the plant is making some money, but the citizens seem to forget that during the past two or three years they have been getting their gas at a price far below the cost of production and the continuance of the rates has been partly for the recuperation of the plant.

"An ordinance has been introduced in Council that, if passed, will lower the rate 20 cents on the thousand feet. It will be remembered that when the present rate went into effect it was not raised at a jump, but rather there were a series of increases, and in the same manner they will be lowered.

"The gas plant has been at a great expense as everyone knows, due to the high prices of coal during the war times. The plant must be self supporting and had not the running expenses been made by the plant itself they would have come from the taxpayer, which would have really amounted to the same thing as this higher gas rate.

"The gas plant had been sorely neglected for the past twenty years, due to the need for money in other departments and in order to keep it in running condition it had to be practically rebuilt.

These much needed repairs were made in the past two years at a very high cost; the new holder alone being constructed at the cost of something like $35,000. This piece of equipment was put in the place of the old holder which had been in service for about thirty-four years, whereas the life of a gas-holder is usually about fifteen years. The total amount of the repairs was $180,000.

"I think that those in interest of a Greater Alexandria will be patient and accept the reductions in the gas rate as it comes, for to furnish gas to a greater city, we must have a better gas plant. The citizens may rest assured that these reductions in the rate will come just as soon as they are practical.

"For a greater city we must make our municipal gas plant just as good as it can be made and work together to make it so, and in due course of time we will have the best gas at the lowest possible rate."

Twin Bill at Armory

Friends' vs. Physical Culture and A. L. I. vs. All Stars Will Fill The Program For Tonight

In Armory Hall tonight two games are scheduled. First game at 7:15 p. will be between the local quint from the Friends Playground and the team from the Webster Physical Culture School of Washington. This will undoubtedly be the most spectacular game between girls to be played on the local court this season.

The second game is expected to be as near a battle as has ever been fought between sport contestants in Alexandria and will be between the A. L. I. soldier boys and the All-Stars of Langdon. This game has the promise of a bitterly fought contest as Washington is assembling her peers of the sport in order that the Yankees may evade the soldiers challenge. This contest will start promptly at 8.15.

ADDRESS TO WOMEN

Mrs Cunningham and Miss Pidgeon Speak to Women Voters

The auditorium of the chamber of commerce held a representative audience last night to hear Mrs. Minnie Fisher Cunningham and Miss Elizabeth Pidgeon speak under the auspices of the League of Women Voters. Both of these women are trained speakers, thoroughly conversant with their subject, pending legislation of interest to woman. Members of every woman's organization in the city were invited to attend, and each organization was represented.

Miss Pidgeon is director of Citizenship Education at the University of Virginia and is sent out by the Univer sity to form classes in citizenship. This work is also under the auspices of the Virginia League of Women Voters, and Miss Pidgeon will return to this city the first or second week in February to begin a course of twelve lectures, the course to cost $5. A number eprolled last night and others can do so by communicating with the local league.

Mrs. William J. Morton presided and introduced the speakers and also stressed the point that the League of Women Voters is non partisan, is not to dictate in politics, but is to work for better legislation affecting women and children. The program of legislation for the Virginia league, with standing committees, is as follows: Child Welfare; Education; Food Supply and Demand; Women in Industry; Social Hygiene; American Citizenship; Citizenship Education; Efficient Government; Uniform Laws Concerning Women; Legislation; and Reduction of Armament.

Fifty thousand women from European countries have entered the United States since the armistice.

Farmer's wives in Japan rear silk worms just as women on the farms in this country keep poultry.

Adams, of Roanoke, Miss Augusta Conrad, of Winchester, Mrs. Howard Fletcher, of Warrenton, and Mrs. W. H. Greene, of Staunton, members of the executive committee.

These women will be the guests of Dr. Barrett at luncheon Friday, followed by the first business meeting at 2 o'clock, a reception from 4 to 6 They will also be Dr. Barrett's dinner guests, and the public meeting is to be in the chamber of commerce auditorium, at 8 o'clock. They are to be entertained in private homes Friday night and Saturday morning, and anyone who will entertain a delegate is requested to communicate with Mrs. Louis N. Duffey, or Mrs. Charles M. Shepperson.

Folks---

SOME people have an idea that prices are only halfway down—that the thing to do is to hold to their money "still a little longer" and to get more value for less money by a policy of "watchful waiting."

That policy is O. K. in some things, as proven by one of the greatest statesmen that the world has ever seen—but—when we look at present conditions and take into consideration the present ratio as compared with prices a year prior to the war—it is our opinion that prices have ceased their tumbling, that is on most articles—in fact, some of them are going higher instead of lower.

Our advice is to put that money into circulation because each dollar you spend causes an increase in the production of the article bought and gives one of the 3,000,000 unemployed a job.

So, laying aside all question of saving it is your duty to BUY if you need the article which you purchase.

Two persons have been detected in Fort Trumball New London, as spies, (one of them dressed in woman's apparel), by a private in that fort. They had been on board of the American squadron and in Fort Griswold. They were sent on board the frigate United States Commodore Decatur. The one in woman's clothes proves to be the second Lt. of the Ramilies.

WINS HONORS IN EDUCATION

General Education Rating of Virginia Counties For Year

Elizabeth City Heads Having Jumped From Eighth Place Last Year

Elizabeth City leads the counties of Virginia in general educational rating this year according to figures compiled by J. N. Hillman, secretary of the State board of education. The report will be presented to the general assembly at its approaching session.

In taking the lead in education Elizabeth City jumps from eighth to first place in the list of one hundred Virginia counties. Last year Prince George was first and that county continues to rank high, having, this year, third place. Arlington goes from third to second place, Loudoun from ninth to fourth, Henrico from sixth to fifth James City from fifth to sixth. Bath remains at seventh. High land goes from thirteenth to eighth, Augusta from twenty-eighth, to ninth and Roanoke from thirty-fifth to tenth.

The great jump made by Augusta and Roanoke may be due in part at least to the fact that last year one or two of the factors making up the ratings were taken directly from the reports of the division superintendents, which may have included capitalization. This year capitalization was deducted from everything and the proper bases and division were made by Secretary Hillman.

Looking at Virginia education from the big end of the telescope Franklin county has the lowest rating, standing one hundredth in the hundred counties. It was also at the end of the list last year. Floyd is ninety-ninth as against ninety-sixth last year, Patrick ninety-eighth against ninety ninth, Stafford, ninety-seventh against ninety-third Greene, ninety-sixth against ninety, King George ninety five against ninety-eighth. Then follow, with the same rating, Pittsylvania and Russell which last year had a respective rating of eighty-one and seventy-one. Louisa advances from ninety-five to ninety two. Goochland drops from seventy-eighth place to ninety first, and Amelia slightly improves its position by going from ninety-two to ninety.

This year's rating of the leading Virginia cities, as already published in The News Leader is in the order as follows: Winchester, Norfolk, Richmond, Lynchburg, Portsmouth, Petersburg, Roanoke Newport News, Bristol, Fredericksburg, Charlottesville, Danville Harrisonburg, Staunton, Suffolk, Williamsburg, Clifton Forge Radford, Alexandria and Bristol.—Loudoun Times, January 5, 1922.

Two states, Georgia, on the 2nd, 1788, and Connecticut, on the 9th of the same year, ratified the constitution in the month of January. Michigan, on the 26th, 1837; Kansas, on the 29th, 1861; Utah, on the 4th, 1896, and New Mexico, on the 6th, 1912, were admitted to the Union in January.

Five Records Broken by United States Aviators During Year.

....The feat of Stinson and Bertaud marks. the fifth. world's. record made by American airmen during 1921.. Lieutenant. McCready, of. the Army, on September 28 drove an airplane to the height of 37,800 feet. Lieutenant-Commander McCullough in a Loening monoplane flying boat made an altitude of 19,500 feet, carrying four persons.. Bert. Acosta, drove a Curtiss Navy racer in Omaha last September for 150 miles at an average of 176.3 miles an hour. Sergeant Chambers of Fort Sill, Lawton, Oklahoma, on November 1 dropped 26,000 feet in a parachute in eighteen minutes.. The Navy dirigible C-7, piloted. by Lieutenant-Commander R F. Wood, on December 2 made three flights with the first use of helium. So 1921 has been a record year for American aviation.

REDISTRICTING CONFERENCE

Virginia Democratic Leaders Discuss Future of Ninth District

District As At Present Constituted Is Considered "Topheavy" by Democrats

Washington, Jan. 11.—Proposals for changing the lines of the Ninth Virginia Congressional District, now top-heavy with population, and now decisively Republican in politics, were laid before the Virginia delegation in Congress yesterday by an unofficial committee of Virginia Democrats who are to advise the General Assembly as to such action as should be taken.

Although the formal statement issued by the conference indicated that the committee felt it advisable to consult such Virginia Congressmen as might be directly interested in the redistricting, as a matter of fact all the Democratic members of the delegation including the two United States Senators, were invited to the fice of Senator Swanson, except Representative Drewry, who was absent from the city.

The Fifth, Sixth and Tenth Districts represented by J. M. Hooker, James P. Woods and the late Hal D. Flood, respectively, will be most immediately concerned over changing the line, inasmuch as these districts are contiguous to the Ninth and any realignment of counties will involve an increase in the constituencies of one or more of the three Representatives and probably involve an increase in the Republican vote in these districts.

Those Democratic leaders attending the conference yesterday from the Ninth District included former Governor Henry C. Stuart, C. W. Bondurant, of St. Charles; Frank Wysor, of Pulaski; Arch Williams, of Wytheville, and Judge Fulton Kegly, of Bland. Harry F. Byrd, of Winchester, also was in the group. The members of the delegation present were Senators Swanson and Glass; Representatives Bland, Deal, Montague, Hooker, Woods, Harrison and Moore.

Members of the delegation concerned in the line changing told the committee, according to those who were willing to comment upon the matter, that they were not disposed to offer any suggestion as to the action the Legislature should take, but would leave the whole business to the committees of that body and to the Democratic leaders of the Ninth District.

There seemed, however, to be agreement on the part of all interests upon the importance of so rearranging the counties of the Ninth as to give the Democrats a fairer chance of redeeming it, if by so doing no other district, already Democratic ,is put in the doubtful class.

From all that could be gathered, the meeting today was adjourned to Richmond, where the Ninth District leaders will meet with the committees of the General Assembly and with Governor-Elect Trinkle, himself a Ninth District Democrat, for a further canvass of the situation. What counties will be legislated out of the Ninth was not indicated by any of those present today and into which of the three contiguous districts such counties will go, also was left for further consultation.

The following is the formal statement, which was issued immediately upon the adjournment of the conference:

The meeting was brought about by the necessity of changing the boundary lines of the Ninth Congressional District, owing to the great excess of population of this district, due to the development which has been going on there for a number of years.

Viewing the necessity for some reapportionment to be brought about by the Virginia Legislature now about to assemble, a number of leading Democrats, before presenting the matter to the General Assembly, felt they would like to extend the courtesy of a consultation to such members of the Virginia delegation in Congress as would be affected by any change that might be made in the Ninth District.

The committee was met very courteously by the gentlemen so affected, who while expressing a friendly interest in undertakings of the Democrats of the Ninth District, very properly declined to have anything to say in the matter, feeling the matter of reapportionment was one to be dealt with by the Virginia Assembly without any form of suggestion or dictation by any of the Virginia members of Congress. They stated, however, they would very cheerfully abide by an action of the Legislature in this respect which seemed to be called for by the circumstances and conditions of the case. They expressed themselves as being entirtly content, as far as they were concerned, with any conclusion the Legislature may reach in disposing of the matter, feeling that the public good, and not their personal interests or political ambitions, should be considered in the matter.

NERVOUS AND HALF-SICK WOMEN

These Letters Recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Will Interest You

For Your Own Good Please Read Them

Youngstown, Ohio.—"Last fall I began to feel mean and my back hurt me and I could hardly do my little bit of housework. I was played out when I would just sweep one room and would have to rest. I would have to put a cushion behind me when I would sit down and at night I could not sleep unless I had something under my back. I had awful cramps every month and was just nearly all in. Finally my husband said to me one day, 'Why don't you try Lydia E. Pinkham's medicine?' and I said, 'I am willing to take anything if I could get well again.' So I took one bottle and a second one and felt better and the neighbors asked me what I was doing and said, 'Surely it must be doing you good all right.' I have just finished my eighth bottle and I cannot express to you how I feel, the way I would like to. If you can use this letter you are welcome to it and if any woman does not believe what I have written to be true, she can write to me and I will describe my condition to her as I have to you."—Mrs. ELMER HEASLEY, 141 S. Jackson St., Youngstown, Ohio.

"I was very nervous and rundown," writes Mrs. L. E. Wiese of 706 Louisa St., New Orleans, La. "I would often sit down and cry, and was always blue and had no ambition. I was this way for over a year and had allowed myself to get into quite a serious condition. One day I saw your advertisement in the daily paper and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once. I have improved ever since taking the third bottle and find it is the best medicine I have ever taken."

Benefited by First Bottle

"I was completely run down and not able to do my housework. I just dragged myself around and did not have energy to get up when once I sat down. I read advertisements of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in our paper 'The Indiana Daily Times,' and learned all about it. I received results from the very first bottle and now I am doing all my own work, even washing and ironing, and I never felt better in my life. I tell all my friends it is due to you."—Mrs. ELIZABETH REINBOLD, 403 N. Pine St., Indianapolis, Indiana.

You should pay heed to the experiences of these women. They know how they felt before taking the Vegetable Compound, and afterwards, too. Their words are true.

WHEN EVERY MOVE HURTS

Lame every morning, achy and stiff all day, worse when it's damp or chilly? Suspect your kidneys and try the remedy your neighbors use. Ask your neighbor!

Mrs. A. M. Madison, 323 North Royal St., Alexandria, says: "I was so bad off with kidney complaint I had to go to bed. My back hurt me as though I were being pierced with a knife. I couldn't turn from one side to the other, but was just helpless. When I was able to get up around at all I had to have help to do everything. I couldn't even lace my own shoes, and I was so nervous my hand would shake like a leaf when I tried to hold anything. The way my kidneys acted showed they were in bad shape. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Creighton's Drug Store and I was certainly filled with joy before I had used them very long. The misery left me and I felt like myself again."

UNIVERSITY OF VA. HOSPITAL

Removal to Richmond Will Mean Death of the Charlottesville Institution

Statement Showing Effect of Proposed Removal of Medical Department of Virginia University

The removal of the Medical Department of the University of Virginia to Richmond will mean the death of the University Hospital at Charlottesville.

The Bulletin of the Medical College of Virginia, September 1920, in presenting a brief for the location of the combined medical school in Richmond, dismisses the question of the fate of the University Hospital thus:

"It is true it will no longer be a teaching hospital and receive state patients, but this fact would render it more free to care for other cases, and it would find its present capacity taxed to meet the needs of the University, of Charlottesville and of the adjacent territory.

The Majority Report of the Commission on Medical Education makes essentially the same statement as above quoted and adds the alternate suggestion that the University could advantageously use the hospital buildings for other purposes.

In accordance with the first plan the admissions to the University would practically be limited to private patients from the University, Charlottesville, and the adjacent territory. Neither the University of Virginia nor the people of Virginia are interested in the maintenance at the University of a hospital for private patients.

The second suggestion would be carried out by the conversion of the hospital buildings into laboratories or dormitories. This is the probable action that would have to be taken by the University if the Medical Department were removed to Richmond.

The following brief outline of the developement of the University Hospital with a summary of its past, and possible future, service to the State is presented that the people of Virginia may realize the loss entailed in the abolition of this institution.

The University of Virginia Hospital is owned by the State and is operated under the supervision and control of the University. The initial building, with facilities for the care of 20 patients, was opened in 1901. Subsequent steady growth of the institution as manifested clearly the great need that existed—and still exists—in that portion of Virginia for a general hospital caring primarily for the indigent sick. The first wing was added in 1905, a second in 1907 and in 1916, through the generous gift of Mr. Charles Steele, '78, a third and much larger addition was erected.

Each new structure has allowed the Hospital temporarily, but only temporarily, to meet adequately the demands made upon it. In short order crowded wards have reappeared creating afresh the obvious necessity for more space and a larger staff if there was to be ample provision for the needy sick. The Hospital is now rated a 200 bed institution, yet must on frequent occasion house and care for as many as 230 patients. The present volume of work will be most clearly indicated by the fact that there are now approximately 4000 admissions anuually and that twelve visiting physicians, fourteen internes and seventy-seven nurses are required to render the necessary medical and nursing attention to this group. In addition there are about 5000 visits yearly in the Out Patient Department.

The modern era of the University Hospital may be said to date from the opening of the second wing in 1907. From September 1, 1907, to July 1, 1921, 33,230 patients have been admitted. Of this number 26,000 were ward patients, that is, able to bear only a part of the expense incident to hospital treatment. In fact, 10,000 were entered upon a charity basis and paid nothing whatsoever toward their maintenance. In the two wards devoted to colored people, 9,000 negroes have been cared for. Ward patients in the aggregate have received 468,000 days of hospital treatment during the fourteen year period. The total running expenses of the Hospital for the period have been $1,029,614.00 and of this sum the State has contributed $298,240.00.

The large majority of these 26,000 ward admissions have been from the rural districts or from small towns. For most of them there has been no other general hospital within a reasonable distance, which would receive the indigent sick. To no small number the 9,000 negroes, for example—the University Hospital has offered almost the only opportunity for the relief of suffering and a restoration to health. No active imagination is demanded to visualize the returns to the State in the better health of these many thousand citizens. When it is recalled that there are 400,000 people living within a few hours of the University Hospital and that this hospital is the only one of large size west of Richmond providing primarily for the ward and charity patient, the obligation to perpetuate and enlarge this service for the poorer people seems almost too evident to call for argumentative support.

The University Hospital was founded for the achievement of two co-ordinate purposes. First, to afford clinical experience to senior medical students and second, to increase the opportunity for the indigent sick to secure at a nominal cost that institutional care which so often the unavoidable financial burden would otherwise render impossible. These two motives have been inseparably interwoven in, and responsible for the physical growth of the Hospital and the increasing representation of the various medical and surgical specialties upon the visiting staff.

It is generally recognized that, on the average, the most thorough hospital service is given by the teaching institution. Sheer necessity—to mention no higher impulse—demands of the clinical teacher that he shall keep abreast of the advances in his field and that he shall give to each patient that diligent study which will hold the respect of keen minded and thoughtful students. As a matter of fact his scientific outlook impels him to seek in each case the corroboration of accepted theories or the key to new truths. These and other factors combine to stimulate him to maximum effort. And this result most obviously must redound to the benefit of the patient in that the latter, carefully studied for diagnosis and treatment of this dread disease. Yet the expense of the Sanitorium to the State would be the same whether or not the medical students were at hand to make us of this rich opportunity in clinical medicine.

The time will surely come when the State will provide more comprehensively for the institutional treatment of remediable maladies amongst the poorer people and for whom treatment must otherwise often be inadequate. The return in a more productive and efficient citizenship, one in fact with a greater earning power, will alone warrant financial outlay. To mention a few striking possibilities, institutions for the cure of crippled children, for the pre and postnatal care of pregnant women to the end that there be a lower infant and maternal mortality, for the treatment of curable mental disorders would more than justify their cost wherever located. The concentration of such State enterprises about the University Medical Department would in no wise increase their inherent cost. On the contrary the State would receive an additional gain in the utilization of such patients for teaching its medical students.

There is a bright future ahead for the University Hospital provided funds become available for its legitimate expansion along with the growth and enlargement of the Medical School. And such funds as the State may see fit to invest in this institution for the medical and surgical care of its poorer citizens is not properly chargeable against medical education. The State is already thoroughly committed to the wise policy of utilizing a portion of its revenue to improve the health of its citizens generally. Specifically, for example hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent annually in the fight against tuberculosis and in the treatment of men, women and children so infected. In 1919 the State Health Department opened the Blue Ridge Tuberculosis Sanitorium with in a few miles of the University. The sanitorium patients are used for the instruction of the senior medical students of the University in the diagnosis and treatment of this dread disease. Yet the expense of the Sanitorium to the State would be the

VIRGINIA NEWS
PARAGRAPHED

Richmond—Orders were posted in the Southern Railway Company's shops in South Richmond Saturday recalling some of the workmen who were temporarily discharged shortly before Christmas.

Heathsville—Whitestone High School was closed last week as several cases of smallpox have developed in that vicinity. However, it seems well under control and not likely to spread.

Richmond—With a red rubber ball and a doll baby tucked safely in his grip, Governor-Elect E. Lee Trinkle took his departure from the city Saturday and will make the hearts of his children glad with the presents from Richmond, where they will begin their domicile a few days previous to the inauguration of Mr. Trinkle as Governor on February 1.

Heathsville—Deer, once so plentiful in this country, but which for some years back seemed to have entirely vanished, have been seen so frequently of late in different parts of the county, that the supervisors have ruled against shooting at them under any circumstances.

Richmond—"Small but capable of turning out a large quantity of liquor" is the description offered by Sergeant Doeppe when he described a complete still, consisting of quart kettle and worm, which he and Sergeant Anthony captured last night when they conducted a raid on the dwelling house at 521 North Eighteenth street. Robert Jones and Ed Carter were arrested, charged with having the still in their possession. Jones was released on the confession of Carter and Carter was sent to the grand jury.

Buckingham—Hilda Warsing, five year old daughter of Ernest L. Warsing, of Gold Hill, Buckingham county, was burned to death while playing with her seven year old brother Saturday. The children were playing in an open lot when the clothing of little Hilda caught fire. She became frightened and ran in the direction of the house, but she tripped and fell into a pile of burning leaves and was burned so severely that medical assistance proved futile. She died early last night.

Freeling—News reaches here from Skeetrock, a little town in the lower Cumberlands, in effect that Dewey Mills, a young man of that place, shot George Mullins, inflicting a wound from which he died within a few hours. Mills surrendered himself to the authorities. Mullins was a young man, and a son of Henry Mullins, who was shot and killed by prohibition agents last summer near the same place that this occurrence took place.

Williamsburg—Among the general bills to be introduced in the House of Delegates at this session is one that the Hon. N. L. Henley, member of the House from Williamsburg, will offer. It will provide for the appointment of official court stenographers for the several judicial circuits of the State. Its patron says he expects opposition, but will try to show how necessary it is to provide Circuit Court judges with this assistant, and the public with his services.

Norfolk—During a day's hunting near Juniper, in the Dismal Swamp, on Thursday Dr. Martyn L. Richardson was successful in bagging two deer. One was a buck weighing 156 pounds, while the second was a 203-pound doe. A bag of two deer is considered unusual for a single day's hunting. Dr. Richardson was attended by two guides who live in the vicinity of Juniper, and had their dogs.

Petersburg—Traffic on the Norfolk and Western main line was tied up for nearly ten hours today, when several cars of a freight train were derailed at Jack's Station, about six miles west of this city. No one was hurt advices here this afternoon stated, when the cars went off the track almost directly in front of the telegrapher's office at the station. Wrecking crews from this city were put to work clearing away the debris, but at an early hour this afternoon the tracks were still blocked and passengers transferred at this point. The scene of the derailment is the point where the Norfolk and Western belt line around this city begins.

HERE'S A PERFECT BACK, BEAUTY EXPERTS SAY.

Experts who have measured and ruled her back (How'd you like to be an expert?) say it is the most perfect back possessed by any woman in these broad United States. The back is Flo Cunningham. She isn't a bit ashamed of her back—that is the reason the photographer got a perfect exposure.

Baby Boy Deserted

"Mother" Leaves Infant With Matron and Disappears In Crowd

Richmond, Jan. 11.—Did she forget?

Nestling snugly amidst the drab, bare walls of the foundling ward at Virginia Hospital last night, an infant boy kicked vigorously and prattled plaintively in protest at his strange surroundings.

Since early morn, he had lain, awaiting mother, in an improvised cradle, under care of the Travelers' Aid Society, at Broad Street Station. A negro matron received the baby, swathed in a silken shawl and richly clothed, unhesitantly when a woman who said she was its mother, asked her to "mind him awhile." Then she disappeared in the rush of passengers for an outgoing train. She left a suitbox of hand-embroidered garments for the baby.

All day the negro "mammy" kept vigil over the blue-eyed infant and furtively scanned the faces of passersby in hurrying crowds in hope of recognizing its "mother." Scores of mothers of other babies paused, in their hurry trainward, at the society's booth to fondle the little one and tighten their grasp about their own when told of its abandonment.

Then night came and, as the crowds thinned, hope of the "mother's" return was abandoned, and the infant with its bit of baggage, was placed in the city's care. —Richmond Times Dispatch.

Public Is Amazed at Continued Enormous Demand for Tanlac

People All Over America Want to Know What Is Behind the Phenomenal Success of This Preparation That Makes It the World's Greatest Tonic.

Day after day the question is being asked all over the United States and Canada: What is the reasons for the phenomenal success of Tanlac? Why do we hear so much about it? and, Why do Tanlac sales keep increasing every year, when other medicines seem to have a short-lived popularity and are then forgotten?

The answer is simple enough. The test of time has proven to people all over the American continent that Tanlac always produces most gratifying results and that the remarkable relief it brings seems to be more permanent than ever before believed possible.

Tens of thousands of persons, everywhere, who took it when it was first introduced six years ago, report that they are still enjoying excellent health and millions of American homes are now using Tanlac as the family medicine after first trying it out thoroughly and proclaim it the World's Greatest Tonic.

Thousands of men and women of all ages and in all walks of life afflicted with stomach, liver and kidney disorders, some of them of long standing, as well as thousands of weak, thin, nervous men and women apparently on the verge of collapse have testified publicly that they have been fully restored to their normal health, strength and weight by its use.

Still others, who seemed fairly well, yet who suffered with indigestion, headaches, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, sour gassy stomach, coated tongue, foulness of breath constipation, bad complexion, loss of appetite, sleeplessness at night and terribly dejected, depressed feelings, state that they have been entirely relieved of these distressing symptoms and restored to health and happiness by taking Tanlac.

Tanlac has never been advertised as a cure-all or that it would preform unheard of wonders. The advertising has been clean, straightforward and conservative. Actual facts and figures have been stated and stated in a true, business-like way that has commanded the confidence of all in the conservative claims set forth.

The enormous demand for Tanlac is due to merit alone, for no amount of advertising would continue to sell any article that does not possess real merit. Unless full value underlays the article advertised, the advertising will ultimately fall of its own weight. "You can fool some of the people some of the time, but you can't fool all of the people all of the time."

Tanlac has been well advertised, it is true, but such a large and rapidly growing demand could not be brought about by advertising alone. It is what the people themselves say that counts. One bottle of Tanlac is sold in a neighborhood through advertising, but ten more are sold in that same community as a result of the sale of that first bottle and that is why Tanlac has succeeded. People are always willing to talk about their ailments, but they are more than glad to tell others of the medicine that helped them. It is something they could not keep to themselves if they tried, for the impulse to sympathize with your fellowman and want to help him is one of the strongest, as well as one of the biggest, things in human nature.

That is the reason why the people of every section of the United States and Canada have become to speak of Tanlac as the world's greatest Tonic. And that is the reason why the demand for this remarkable medicine has grown to such proportions that it is almost impossible to keep dealers supplied.

Tanlac is sold in Alexandria by Edgar Warfield, Jr., and all leading druggists everywhere.

WHY YOU NEED IRON

To Make You Strong and "Brainy" and Put The Power into Your Blood to Overcome Disease Germs

The food you eat contains carbon. When your food is digested it is absorbed from the intestines into the blood. When the carbon in your food comes in contact with the oxygen carried by the iron in your blood, the carbon and oxygen unite and by so doing they give off tremendous energy, thereby giving you great force, strength and endurance. Without iron your blood carries no oxygen and without oxygen there is nothing to unite with the carbon in your food, so that what you eat does you no good—you do not get any strength from it—it is like putting coal into a stove without a fire. You cannot get any heat unless the coal unites with the fire.

The strongest weapon with which to prevent and overcome colds, pneumonia, kidney trouble, rheumatism, nervous prostration, in fact almost any disease or disease germs is plenty of good rich, pure blood, strength, energy and endurance and the greatest energy carrier in the body is organic iron, not metallic iron which people usually take, but organic iron like the iron in spinach, lentils and apples and like the iron contained in what is known as organic Nuxated Iron., which may be had from almost any druggist. Nuxated Iron often increases the strength, energy and endurance of weak, nervous, run-down folks in two weeks' time.

It has been used and highly recommended by former United States Senators, Members of congress, Judges of U. S. Courts, many physicians and prominent men.

Over 4,000,000 people are now using it annually. Satisfactory results are guaranteed or the manufacturers will refund your money. Sold by all druggists in tablet form only.

GREATER ALEXANDRIA

(For The Gazette)

If a Greater Alexandria is placed upon the map we'll have to doff our lethargy and don our thinking cap. We'll need also to doff our coat and every scrap of dudish dud—put on our overalls and boots and wade out in the mud. In plainer English, let me say, we'll have to go to work. Let none presume to idly stand, let none presume to shirk.

"Gorgeous castles in the air," are built of flimsy schemes; but everything that's worth our while, takes something more than dreams. When I was but a boy in school I heard my teacher say, that the city on the Tiber "Wa'n't built up in a day," and oft I've read in "Sacred writ," if your house you'd have to stand, you need's must build on solid rock and not on shifting sand.

So a Greater Alexandria means money, men and muscle; means toil and talent, tact and time, and gumption, grit and hustle. Means that a superstructure, all worthy of the name, must needs be built of sterner stuff than hope of selfish gain. Means that a superstructure commodious and great cannot be built of "strawless brick," like jealousy and hate. Means sacrifice and faith and love, and days of constant giving of all that's noblest in your life and days of steadfast living.

Let "A Greater Alexandria" be our motto and our prayer. A better people in it, our constant aim and care.
